Spotlight on Faculty Partnership

Helping Students Succeed Beyond the Classroom

Every Conversation Can Make a Difference

Faculty often play the biggest role in whether students seek academic support. A simple recommendation at the right time can give students the confidence to ask for help and stay engaged in their learning.

NetTutor extends your support by connecting students with qualified tutors and success coaches who reinforce course concepts while helping learners become more confident and independent.

Supporting Learning Beyond the Subject

Every NetTutor session is led by a trained human tutor who encourages critical thinking, guides students through challenges, and reinforces faculty instruction. When appropriate, tutors also help students evaluate AI-generated content and develop responsible AI literacy.
